December 9-11, 2016
The Great Turning: Becoming Vibrant Elders in Our Emerging World

A weekend with Lynne Iser and Rabbi Mordechai Liebling

As we approach the second half of life, the question of "What gives our life meaning?" reemerges as we naturally consider the legacy that we are leaving for future generations. In this experiential workshop, based on the work of Joanna Macy and Rabbi Zalman Schachter-Shalomi, we will uncover the unique gifts that our years of life experience provide along with the opportunity to grapple with what is happening in our world. We will explore the idea of the Great Turning, recognizing that old systems and institutions are breaking down and that new possibilities are emerging, while honoring our own life experience, interests and passion.

We invite you to take this opportunity to decide how you want to go forth into this time of your life.

Lynne Iser, MPH, founder of Elder-Activists.org, teaches conscious aging and community building, and was previously the Executive Director of the Spiritual Eldering Institute. She is committed to using her skills and resources to bring forth a more just and thriving world for all.

Rabbi Mordechai Liebling, founder and director of the Social Justice Organizing Program at the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College. Prior to this he was the Executive Vice-President of Jewish Funds for Justice. He has led workshops and retreats on the intersection of sustainability, social justice and spirituality.

Registration
Visit www.pendlehill.org, or call Ext. 3 at 610-566 4507 or 800-742-3150 (toll-free in US)

Accommodations
Private room $495
Shared room $405
Commute $285

Travel
Pendle Hill is just fifteen minutes from Philadelphia International Airport, and twenty minutes outside the city. The campus is near the Wallingford train station. Take the SEPTA Media/Elwyn line from Philadelphia and call for a pick-up.

338 Plush Mill Road
Wallingford, Pennsylvania
Ext. 137, 800-742-3150 (US) / 610-566-4507 (worldwide)
www.pendlehill.org

Pendle Hill
A Quaker Study, Retreat, and Conference Center