Travel

Pendle Hill is just fifteen minutes from Philadelphia International Airport, and twenty minutes outside the city.

The campus is near the Wallingford train station.
Take the SEPTA Media/Elwyn line from Philadelphia and call for a pick-up.

Embraced by the restful, quiet space of Pendle Hill, get in touch with your own goodness. Give your body a chance to soak in the stillness and your mind some time to float above the body and away from the noise of the world. Learn simple laying-on-of-hands healing, easy full-body clothes-on massage, face and foot massage. Make a life map to see where in your life goodness has showed up large and real. Giving and receiving gentle touch along with seeing your life path in a new way will refresh you and restore you to your center.

John Calvi has been teaching at Pendle Hill since 1990. He is a popular and trusted leader in the work of healing trauma and restoration after burnout and heartbreak. He'll be celebrating his 65th birthday and sharing 35 years experience of healing in crisis situations. Following his popular best-seller, The Dance

Between Hope and Fear: Healing from Trauma, Friends are awaiting publication of his forthcoming book "How Far Have You Traveled?"
