Let the beautiful quiet space of Pendle Hill embrace you as you slow down and get in touch with your own goodness. Give your body a chance to soak in the stillness and your mind some time to float above the body and away from the noise of the world. Learn simple laying-on-of-hands healing, easy full-body clothes-on massage, and face and foot massage. Create a life map to see where in your life goodness has shown up large and real for you. As you give and receive gentle touch reverently and see your life path in a new way, you will be refreshed and restored you to your center.

John Calvi has been teaching at Pendle Hill since 1990. He is a popular and trusted leader in the work of healing trauma and restoration after burnout and heartbreak. John will share from his more than 35 years experience of healing in crisis situations. Following his popular best-seller, The Dance Between Hope and Fear: Healing from Trauma, Friends are awaiting publication of his forthcoming book, "How Far Have You Traveled?"
