Lead Facilitator Matthew Armstead is a community builder, facilitator, and cultural organizer in Philadelphia, PA. A core trainer with Training for Change, he has worked with diverse groups from Occupy Wall Street activists to Ivy League university students and on topics ranging from anti-oppression, strategic planning, community outreach, peer counseling, nonviolent direct action, to organizational development.

Radical Faithfulness in Action

An online, on-campus program in grassroots organizing and radical faithfulness, with three campus residencies
Thursday evening to Sunday noon

JUNE 28-JULY 1 • AUGUST 16-19 • OCTOBER 25-28, 2018

Are you already engaged in organizing for social justice? Do you value the importance of interconnection, community, and spiritual practices to sustain you in your work? Radical Faithfulness in Action may be for you.

Join experienced organizer-facilitators and committed people of different faiths to strengthen your capacity for effective community action for peace and justice. The experiential curriculum will help you:

♦ Gain knowledge and skills in effective social action organizing;
♦ Give and receive support in your ongoing social justice work outside the course; and
♦ Deepen spiritual practices that build resilience in carrying on the work.

Fees

Private room $ 1500
Shared room $ 1400
