

Women of Our World: Photojournalism with Love

An exhibit of photographs by Blair Seitz

JANUARY 5 - APRIL 24, 2019 • THE BARN GALLERY

ARTIST'S TALK & RECEPTION, JANUARY 6, 2-4 PM

Blair writes: "In my head I am a photographer and a social activist. In my heart I have compassion and love for the underprivileged and the 'other side.' Hopefully, head and heart come together in my photographs. . . . I feel that the photographs in this exhibit tell the many sides of my 'heart' experience. Each image holds a story of my connecting with the joy or sadness of the subject. . . . Women do many works in their communities—farmers, craft makers, merchants, child givers and nurturers, professionals, home keepers, and much more. I hope my photographs will provide an opportunity to celebrate Women of Our World in their many roles."

Blair Seitz is the photographer of 22 books. His photographs have appeared in many publications, including National Geographic Traveler, Nation's Business, and The New York Times Magazine. Blair's books include Philadelphia and its Countryside and Gardens of Philadelphia. Turn the World Around is Blair's illustrated memoir of his years in Africa and Asia as a photojournalist. Blair's photographs hang in numerous corporate facilities, including Citizens' First Banks and Geisinger Hospital, where eight 12-foot photo murals are installed. His website, blairseitz.photoshelter.com, features 5,000 of his photographs. Blair is a member of Reading Friends Meeting (PA).
