for our monthly open-mic poetry reading

featuring special guest Tonita Austin reading from her collection of poems, Toni's Room

Toni's Room is a poetic journey into the most sacred and sensitive parts of me as a black woman, a female activist, writer, lover and mother. Some poems are 20 years old, some were written this year, but all of them provide a look into this black woman's journey from innocence to restoration through ecstasy, heartache, grief, loss, activism and self-love. I felt that there is a need especially during these emotionally charged experiences that artists are the vehicle to healing. I seek to honor myself, my ancestors and open the possibility of healing through art by sharing my poetry in Toni's Room.

Tonita Austin also known as "Toni Love" is a gifted poet, singer, activist and writer born in West Philadelphia. While attending Columbia University, Tonita was a student of Amiri Baraka and performed in Ntozake Shange's "For Colored Girls" as the Lady in Orange. Her writing is influenced by both experiences. She is a contributor to the anthology The Black Body and featured poet in the 2018 Winter/Fall edition of the Philadelphia Arts and Urban Literary magazine. She is the proud mother of James and Janai. The Restoration EP is her first published recording; Toni's Room is her first published book.
