

Radical Faithfulness in Action

A program in grassroots organizing and radical faithfulness with three campus residencies Thursday evening to Sunday noon

APRIL 2-5 • JUNE 25-28 • AUGUST 20-23, 2020

Are you already engaged in organizing for social justice? Does your spiritual life guide and sustain your action in the world? Are you looking to deepen your interconnection, community, and spiritual practices that keep you grounded in your work? Are you called toward action in what Martin Luther King Jr called the “fierce urgency of now”? Radical Faithfulness in Action may be for you.

Join experienced organizer-facilitators and committed people of different faiths to strengthen your capacity for effective community action for peace and justice. The experiential curriculum will help you:

- ◆ listen for Spirit/God/Divine to illuminate pathways that empower you and your communities;
- ◆ discern and follow where Spirit calls you to action with humility, connection, and power; and
- ◆ steward prophetic action and ministry for justice in the world.

Matthew Armstead directs Culture Work Studios, a collaboration hub for strategy development, experiential training, and performance events. She has organized for environmental justice, racial justice, LGBTQ liberation, and accountability among masculine-identified people. She is a core trainer with Training for Change, a global grassroots activist training organization.

Erva Baden is a contemporary shaman who weaves together healing modalities with compassion and humor to journey with clients committed to their own deep transformation and healing. She is a Reiki Master with more than 25 years of experience in facilitating the deep emotional process and release work nationally and internationally. She has studied energy work, chakra healing, and core shamanic techniques, as well as trauma recovery and the intergenerational effects of trauma.
