

REGISTRATION

Pay as led.

Attendees of this retreat will book their own overnight rooms and meals after registration, for which additional fees will apply.

Quaker Writers' Retreat

On-campus: Jun 27-30, 2024

A sojourn to center down and write in community with other Friends, and prepare for the Friends General Conference Gathering.

Join us in Pendle Hill's sanctuary to center down and write in community with other Friends. Enjoy Pendle Hill's library, art studio, walking trails, and communal meals, with time each evening to come together to worship or share your work as led. Janaki Spickard Keeler, Pendle Hill's Pamphlet Editor & Coordinator, will have appointments available to discuss potential pamphlet manuscripts and offer feedback on pamphlet manuscripts in progress. Rebecca Mays, Co-Editor and Managing Editor for the Journal of Ecumenical Studies, will also have appointments available for individual consultations.

This sojourn directly precedes the Friends General Conference Gathering (June 30-July 6, 2024), Rooted in Story, at Haverford College near Philadelphia.

Follow us @ PendleHillUSA

PENDLE HILL

A Quaker Study, Retreat, and Conference Center