

Celebrate the New Year at

PENDLE HILL

Practice & Pasture of the Creative Life

On Campus: Dec 28, 2024 - Jan 1, 2025

A New Year's retreat with Todd Drake and Robin Reid Drake to slow down into creative awareness of our inner lives through poetry and art.

Attendees will explore how artistic and poetic practices can help us give ourselves the gift of pasture — that space our spirits need to wander, play and struggle to better meet the world with peace and integrity. The retreat is co-facilitated by artist, Todd Drake and poet, Robin Reid Drake. Together, this father/child duo bring an intergenerational, interdisciplinary perspective to a generative exploration of creative, spiritual paths. This retreat is open to novices and experienced artists alike and will involve reading, writing, and workshopping diverse poetic forms including visual poetry, as well as printmaking, drawing, and collage in the Pendle Hill Art Studio.

Private Room: $995 | Shared Room: $810 | Commuter: $595

Todd Drake (@Quaker Pirate)

Robin Reid Drake

This retreat culminates in an alcohol-free New Year's Eve celebration, with dinner, a concert in the Barn, and midnight candlelit worship.

Learn more and register at pendlehill.org/newyears

